

Solution of the boundary value problems on the dynamics of the theory of consolidation with double porosity for a circle

Ivane Tsagareli

The above mentioned problems with the help of Laplace transformation with respect to time are reduced to problems of so called "pseudooscillation". It is proved that the problems of pseudooscillation have the a unique solution. Conditions are given for existence of inverse transformations that provide solutions for the initial problems.