

Remark upon Mechanical Construction of function's Graph

N. Avazashvili

The simple mechanical construction is noted, to make use of which it is possible to reproduce any function from certain family of elementary functions, according to one representative of the same family.