Some properties of conjunctive reducibility

Irakli Chitaia

The notion of c-reducibility is very natural and important for the Theory of Algorithms. A lot of interesting properties of c-reducibility are obtained while very few is known about c_1-reducibility. In this talk we will present some recently obtained results about structural properties of c_1-reducibility.